

DR. JAMES MAXWELL

DEAN, SCHOOL OF BUSINESS

Dr. James Maxwell is Dean of the School of Business. He came to LMU in September 2017 with nearly two decades of experience in academic leadership and more than 23 years as a field engineer and marketing manager for Emerson Electric Corporation. He has taught at Sullivan University, MacMurray College, University of Northern Iowa and SUNY-Buffalo State. He served as Chair of the Management Department and Professor at Sullivan University before joining Lincoln Memorial University. Dr. Maxwell has served as Provost and Vice President for Academic Affairs and Student Life at MacMurray College, Department Head and Professor at the University of Northern Iowa, and Chair and Professor at SUNY–Buffalo State.

Dr. Maxwell has received the Kauffman Fellowship from the Ewing Marion Kauffman Foundation for the advancement of entrepreneurship; the President’s Award for Excellence in Teaching and the Instructor of the Year from SUNY-Buffalo State and several other awards. He has published several multiple-blind peer-reviewed journal articles and conference proceedings. He serves as an editorial reviewer and board member for several academic journals and professional organizations.

Dr. Maxwell holds a Ph.D. in Technology Management from Indiana State University; a Doctor of Management from Webster University in St. Louis, Missouri; and a Master of Business Administration and Bachelor of Science in Management and Marketing from Maryville University in St. Louis, Missouri.