Erin Tucker, MFA

Assistant Professor of Art

www.erintucker.com

Biography

Erin Tucker is a studio artist and educator born and raised in the Midwest. She received a BA in theater, and worked as a costume designer for years. When she moved on, she studied painting and sculpture, receiving a BFA from Western Illinois University, and then an MFA in sculpture from Indiana University in Bloomington. She is currently working as an Assistant Professor of Art at Lincoln Memorial University in Harrogate, TN.

Teaching and Research Interests

Erins' teaching is focused on art foundations, building strong and flexible students ready to excel on campus and as future community leaders

Erins' research and studio practice in based in work and labor. Creating sculptures, prints and installations to process and expose her thoughts and feeling on these repetitious cycles intertwined with our daily lives.

Recent Solo and Two-Person Exhibitions

2022 The Process, Arts Council of Southeast Missouri, Cape Girardeau MO

2019 The Well Worn Path, with Rachel Doub, Gallery 1010, Knoxville TN

2018 Consistently Unsustainable: documents of everyday energies, with Holly Kelly, Striped Light Gallery, Knoxville TN

2015 Traces, Grunwald Gallery, Indiana University, Bloomington IN Comfort and Confusion, Blueline Gallery, Bloomington IN