Dear Candidate,

Thank you for your interest in the LMU Master of Education program. We are excited to have you as part of a program that respects the professional practitioner. Professionals enrolled in the LMU Master of Education program engage in exploration of current topics and embark on pathways to meet their career and personal goals.

The Master of Education program includes relevant academic content courses with extensive embedded clinical experiences resulting in a strong theory into practice instructional model. Candidates enter and move through the program as an online cohort, engaging in current research related to individual interests.

The MEd classes are all offered on-line to accommodate our busy, professional students. We also offer the option of meeting with our faculty up to three times per semester at times and locations most convenient for the student. This time will not include lecture, instead just provide the student an opportunity to build a relationship with their professors and have any questions answered on a one-on-one basis.

The MEd program description:

- Consists of three semesters, beginning Fall 2022 and completing in Summer 2023 (Accelerated option – 33 credit hours of successful coursework)
- Consists of four semesters, beginning Summer 2022 and completing in Summer 2023 (Traditional option – 33 credit hours of successful coursework)

The MEd program offers majors in the following areas:

- Curriculum and Instruction (CI): NOT leading to Initial Tennessee Leadership Licensure The CI major is suitable for candidates seeking to advance their skills as classroom leaders by focusing on innovative curriculum design and best practices within the classroom.
- Education Leadership (EL): NOT leading to Initial Tennessee Leadership Licensure The EL major is suitable for candidates already holding Leadership Licensure, out-of-state candidates, higher education personnel, practitioners seeking improvement with best practices in organizational leadership, innovative strategic school improvement, organizational alignment, and data collection and analysis to improve the overall school community.
- Instructional Leadership (IL): leading to Initial Tennessee Leadership Licensure The IL major is suitable for candidates with the State required teaching experience that are seeking to obtain Leadership Licensure. Additionally, the candidate will develop the necessary leadership skills in an education environment that focus on leading and developing teachers at either the building or district level. This focus provides the necessary tools to increase teachers' effectiveness, instructional strategies, and student assessment.

Contact Lisa Horton in the graduate office if you have questions. Out-of-state candidates may opt for their state's required assessment
